State Prisons. Remarks of Mr. E. G. Baldwin, of New-York, in the Assembly, on the bill rela-tive to State Prisons.

Mr. E. G. BALDWIN said he would occupy a few moments of the time of the House in giving some of the reasons in favor of the bill. It will be remembered that in 1835 a law was passed, which provided that no mechanical trade should be taught to the convicts in either of the State prisons. This would have limited the number of those engaged in such branches of business as are usually supplied without importation to the small number who had previously learned such trade fast disappearing. I think I may predict for us before conviction, and would have been so small an unobstructed track to the West by the first that no complaint would have arisen on account week in May, or at least, as soon as the first run of that kind of competition. Had this law been of boats shall reach us from Albany. In regard honestly and faithfully carried out, all complaints on the part of mechanics would long ere this have ceased; but unfortunately there were no pains and penalties attached to it, to enforce its observance by the agents, officers and contractors; and overcome by incessant labor and a heavy outlay the powerful interest of contractors was too strong to the State. The breach can only be filled up for the law to withstand, and continued to defeat the law from the time of its passage in 1835 until the last session of the legislature, when it so happened that there were upon this floor a considerconquerable. The friends of the Superintendent, able number who raised their voices against the who by the bye is a mere cypher in canal experilong a period, notwithstanding their earnest petitions from year to year. Jayne's Hair Tonic.—A fine head of Hair is an absolute requisite to female beauty. Even Sr. Paul, who certainly was no flatterer, says that for a woman to have long hair is a 'glory to her.' To those of the fair set, then, who have been shorn of this 'glory' by general or local diseases, or other causes, we recommend as a restorative Jayne's Hair Tonic. It is a fact established by unimpeachable evidence that it will reproduce hair upon bald places, an effect which although claimed for all preparations for the hair, has been, so far as we know, accomplished by none except Jayne's Hair Tonic.

A FRENCH SCHOOL, in a private family, on the Hudson River, 60 miles from New-York—The subscriber respectfully informs the public, that he has convenient accommodations for ten Boarding Scholars; and will continue to give instruction in French, Spanish, or Italian, and Instrumental Music. The spoken language of his family being the French, pupils are required, as far as practicable, to use it in conversation. They also enjoy the usual advantages for pursuing the Classical and English studies. Book-keeping and commercial Letter-writing are tright in French and Spanish thoroughly; and any scholar that is sufficiently advanced, has access to a private library, containing a collection of foreign authors, calculated to improve the mind and benefit the hear. The discipline of the School is maintained by the exercise of kindly advice, and parental affection, and no individual of vicious habits or myselding disposition, is allowed to remain in the family. The location is healthy and uncommonly heartfull. The lat term of the 3d year will commence ou Wednesday, the 3d of May next.

Terms—Stria year, payable quarterly, in advance. This includes all charges except Book-keeping in the Foreign Languages and Instrumental Music.
